Why you should choose FunTasteSpain?

Who would be more appropriate to receive and show you around the Andalusian culture if not an Andalusian himself? What would be the best way to see the most beautiful and hidden natural sites if not with a local?

Founded in 2013, FunTasteSpain has as objective to be recognized as the best host anyone could have in Andalusia. The company's main goal is to provide an amazing and authentic Spanish experience in all aspects.

We will provide accommodation with local families, excursions to visit iconic and historical places as well as enjoying the amazing nature of the surroundings. We will lead you to taste the typical food, get to know locals and understand our culture and customs. All this without forgetting the most important aspect of all: learning Spanish.

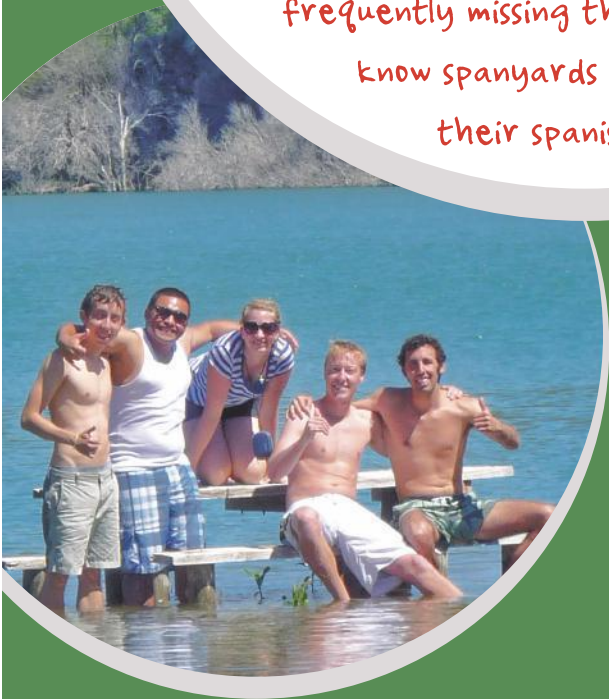

Our history

Founded in 2013, FunTasteSpain started helping international students to find accommodation and introducing them to the Andalusian culture. Over time it became clear to us that most of the students who were coming to live abroad had difficulty finding local friends and really experiencing our rich and authentic culture. We observed that the students were always dragged to the same touristic places. Sometimes their valuable time was been wasted that could have been used to explore more authentic and interesting places. And frequently missing the opportunity to know spanyards and improve their spanish level.

It all started from the idea to bring closer our visitors to the authentic Andalusian culture. Nowadays, we offer, besides accommodation, excursions, social events, spanish classes in all levels. We also organize all the details, so you can have the most complete spanish experience here! We are a very passionate team well prepared and experienced to help out while you're here!

Spanish in Cádiz

The Tacita del Plata is considered the oldest city in the Western World. It was founded (in 1100 B.C.) by the Phoenicians, a seafaring people who turned Gadir into an important trading colony where the Carthaginians, the Romans, the Visigoths and the Muslims would all subsequently settle. An open, cosmopolitan city, its port was chosen by Columbus as the point of departure for his second voyage to the New World. The city would then become, after the decline of Seville, the port to The Indies, drawing the flow of trade with the American Continent.

This frantic commercial activity then brought about an era of economic, cultural splendour, when Baroque palaces with their characteristic towers offering amazing views were built. So the question is: Do you want to learn Spanish in this beautiful place close to the beach? Our school is located just a short walk from the beach and our students can not only enjoy our Spanish courses but also the beaches nearby. Cádiz is famous for its sandy beaches and nice weather (Cádiz enjoys an average of 320 sunny days per year) with warm temperatures even in winter, due to its close proximity to Africa, making this an ideal location in which to learn Spanish and spend a few weeks at any time of year. Cádiz is home to some of Spain's most beautiful beaches. In recent years, due to its wonderful long sandy beaches and its good weather, Cádiz has grown in popularity as a holiday destination in the world and even for Spaniards.

Spanish in Jerez

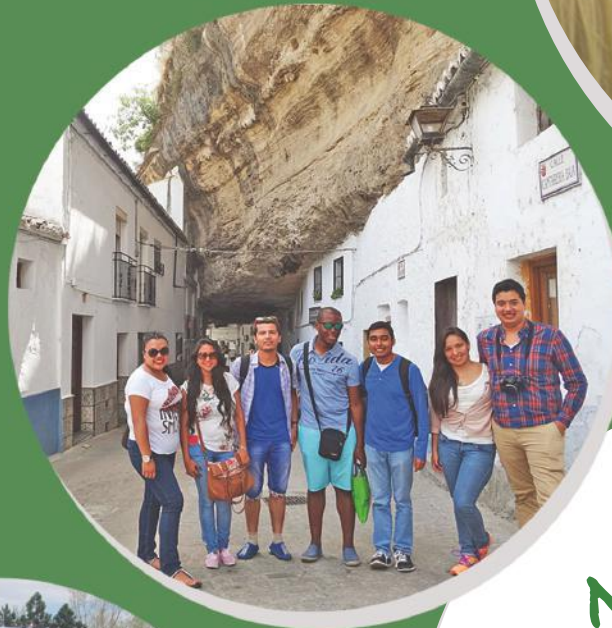

There are few places in Spain which can claim to international recognition enjoyed by Jerez. Thanks to its wine, jerez or sherry, the equestrian tradition, the bulls, flamenco and motor-racing, this Andalusian towns name has been known far and wide for many years. The Phoenicians arrived in the surrounding area some 3,000 years ago to establish a colony called Xera, which became known as Ceret under the rule of the Romans, and Sheres or Xeres when it became an Arabic fortress. Under the reign of the Catholic Monarchs, the prosperous trading of its famous wines with the English began. The Muslims left a deep mark on the town, including the layout of the quarters situated at the heart of the old Arabic city town centre. So if you want to learn Spanish at an authentic spanish place, get to know how Spaniards really live and see all the main cultural and traditions elements of this amazing country, this is your best option. Besides all this, Jerez has other good aspects: its great weather, with more than 300 day of sun; and together with its perfect location: near to the most beautiful beaches of Spain and also only few minutes driving to the Grazalema moutains, Jerez can provide amazing experiences both at beach and countryside.
